

FORMER PRESIDENT DIAZ OF MEXICO DIES

CRISIS SUDDENLY COMES TO EXILE

Tragic Circumstances

CAREER IS REMARKABLE

Mexico Advances to a Stable and Prosperous Government Under Diaz Rule

RESIGNED PRESIDENCY IN 1911

PARIS, July 2.—General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, died at 7 o'clock tonight.

General Diaz's wife, Senora Carmen Romero Rubio Diaz, and their son, Porfirio Diaz, Jr., and the latter's wife were at the bedside when the end came.

Crisis Comes Suddenly.
General Diaz began to fail rapidly about three weeks ago and while his death was not unexpected, owing to his advanced age and recent failing health, the crisis came suddenly this afternoon. Porfirio Diaz, Jr. and his wife were hastily summoned and arrived at the bedside only a few moments before the end which came at 7 o'clock tonight.

Col. Diaz, in announcing the death of his father, said that he was unable to state the nature of the malady, but expressed the opinion that a complication of diseases due to advanced age was the cause.

Tragic Circumstances Mark Death.
Two tragic circumstances marked the death of the exiled ruler. Owing to the troubled state in Mexico, it has been judged impossible to send the body home with all that ceremony which would have befitting one of the greatest figures in Mexican history and further Colonel Porfirio Diaz, Jr., has tried in vain to inform his sisters, Senora Ignacia De La Torre and Senora Rincon Gallardo, who are now in Mexico, of the death of their father.

Not less tragic perhaps, is the fact that not one of those whom General Diaz raised up to be his assistants in governing Mexico and who prospered and grew rich in the shadow of his greatness, were with him when he died. Scarcely any one outside the family knew of the seriousness of General Diaz' illness or that he was in Paris.

The end seems to have been brought about by failure of the heart which was weakened by a severe attack of grippe last year.

Exile Almost Blind.
This illness also left the aged exile almost blind. Nevertheless he was accustomed to walk out daily during the past spring in the Bois de Boulogne which he loved because it resembled the Chapultepec in Mexico City. He had been hoping to go to Biarritz shortly but his illness prevented this.

General Diaz lived here in the greatest simplicity, occupying a modest apartment, in striking contrast to the great houses and retinue of servants maintained by one of his friends who left Mexico with him.

No decision has yet been made concerning the final disposition of the body or the date of the funeral.

Interesting Glimpse of Career.
The letter with which General Porfirio Diaz announced on May 25, 1911, his resignation from the presidency of Mexico after having been master of the country for thirty-five years gives in his own words an interesting glimpse of his remarkable career. It reads:

"Sir: The Mexican people who generously have covered me with honors, who proclaimed me as their leader during the international war, who patriotically assisted me in all works undertaken to develop industry and the commerce of Republic, establish its credit, gain for it the respect of the world and obtain for it an honorable position in the concert of nations—that same people, sir, have revolted in armed military bands, stating that my presence in the exercises of the supreme executive power is the cause of this insurrection.

"I do not know of any fact imputable to me which could have caused this social phenomenon, but permitting, though not admitting, that I may be unwittingly culpable, such a possibility makes me the least able to reason out and decide my own culpability. Therefore, respecting as I have always respected the will of the people, and in accordance with the article 82 with the Federal Constitution, I come before the Supreme Representatives of the nation in order to resign, unreservedly the office of constitutional president of the Republic with which the nation has honored me, which I do with no other reason since, in order to continue in office, it would be necessary to shed Mexican blood, endangering the credit of the country, dissipating its wealth, exhausting its resources and exposing its policy to international complications.

"I hope gentlemen, that when the passions which are inherent to all revolutions have been calmed, a more conscientious and just study will bring out in the national mind, a correct judgment, which, when I die, I may carry graven on my soul as a just estimate of the life which I have devoted and will devote to my countrymen."

Mobs Demand Resignation.

The revolution led by General Francisco I. Madero, Jr., had brought about the aged president's reported pledge early in 1911 to resign his office in a bargain for peace, but on May 24, the day on which the resignation was expected, it was not forthcoming. Riots occurred that day in Mexico City, during which many persons were killed. The National Palace was stoned by mobs shouting "Viva Madero!" and demanding to know why Diaz did not resign. The next day he read his letter of resignation to the Chamber of Deputies. A large majority voted aye; the other legislators rose and bowed their affirmation to his names were called.

The minister of foreign affairs, Francisco Leon de la Barra, was immediately chosen provisional president and Diaz, of whom for thirty years all Mexico had stood in awe, left the capital, secretly the next day, to embark at Vera Cruz for Europe. Since then he had lived virtually an exile in Paris and other European cities, a silent observer of still more troublesome times in the land he had long ruled.

Authorizes But Few Interviews.

The views General Diaz held of the subsequent happenings were reported mainly by rumor. He authorized but few interviews, and those in the main were those of an old man grieved over his own misfortunes and those of Mexico. He longed to see peace re-established, and was often quoted as having urged the now former President Huerta to quit to prevent a foreign war. He was repeatedly reported on the point of returning to Mexico, but he denied that he ever would, unless Mexico was drawn into war with the United States, or unless it was for him to die in his native land.

General Diaz was born in 1830. His family were of old Spanish stock with an infusion of Indian blood. Left fatherless at the age of three, he was educated at the expense of the Bishop of Oaxaca with the intention of becoming a priest, but he eventually turned to law and then at the outbreak of the war with the United States turned to a military career. He served throughout that struggle in a militia company which he helped organize, and after peace was declared he made a special study of military science, and one of the only two in the country who dared openly oppose the continuation of Santa Anna's dictatorship. His execution was ordered, but he escaped and joined Herrera's revolt. He speedily made a reputation as a soldier, and as a brigadier-general he was the chief thorn in the side of the French forces, when, taking advantage of the Civil War in the United States, they attempted to place Archduke Maximilian of Austria on the throne of a Mexican empire. Diaz harassed the enemy constantly, and in June, 1867, captured Mexico City with his forces. On the re-establishment of the republic he was unsuccessful as a candidate for president, but in 1877 he was elected to fill the unexpired term of the fugitive president, Lerdo. His last and eighth election was in July, 1910.

To Diaz was given credit for the advance of Mexico to the status of a stable government, although the autocratic methods he employed were widely criticized.

REDMOND GIVES NUMBER OF IRISHMEN WHO JOIN ARMY

LONDON, July 2.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, speaking at Dublin Thursday night said that up to the 16th of June, 120,741 Irishmen from Ireland had joined the army according to a report of the speech made by the Freeman's Journal, which reached London late today. Mr. Redmond stated that of those who have enlisted upward of 70,000 are Catholics and some 24,000 are enrolled members of the Irish national volunteers.

Mr. Redmond is quoted as saying that he still did not believe in coalition government but that inasmuch as it existed only from day to day, as it were, it could not in any event prevent home rule from coming into operation automatically at the end of the war.

Attorney States Condemned Man Had Nothing

COMES FROM WEBBER

Marshall Will Go Before Chief
Judge of Court of Appeals and Explain Facts

SCHNEPP MAY TELL STORY

NEW YORK, July 2.—That Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant now in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death for conspiring to kill Herman Rosenthal had absolutely nothing to do with the murder, was the statement made here today by H. T. Marshall, an attorney, as coming from his client Bridgie Webber, one of the three self-confessed accomplices in the plot.

Ready to Inform Whitman.

This followed closely upon the heels of a story that Sam Schnepps, the gambler upon whom the state relied during the first Becker trial to corroborate the testimony of Jack Rose, Harry Vallon and Bridgie Webber, the three informers, held the secret in the Becker case and would tell Governor Whitman should he ask him to.

The other development in the case followed in rapid succession. These were that Mr. Marshall intended to go before Chief Judge Barlett of the court of appeals, who wrote the prevailing opinion denying Becker a new trial, and explain to him the facts as relating to Webber.

Makes Statement in Marston's Office.
Mr. Marshall, who was counsel for "Bridgie" Webber when the latter was arrested in connection with the Rosenthal murder, made his statement regarding Webber while in the office of Mr. Marston.

"Webber" said Mr. Marshall "told me as his counsel at the first trial that Becker had absolutely nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal. Webber said that he and the others were perjuring themselves in order to save their skins."

Mr. Marshall said that he then told Webber to get another lawyer and that from that time he could not speak because of professional obligations.

Convicted of Man's Innocence.
"But had I not been convinced of Becker's innocence," continued Mr. Marshall, "I would not have aligned myself with the lawyers in his defense at the second trial. I never would have entered the case had I not known from what Bridgie Webber told me that Becker was deliberately 'framed up' by Webber, Harry Vallon, Jack Rose and Sam Schnepps."

Mr. Marshall declared that while Webber was in the toms he (Webber) sent for him and asked "how had does Whitman want Becker?" Mr. Marshall said he replied that he thought the district attorney was anxious to obtain evidence against Becker.

Mr. Marshall then asked Webber whether Becker had anything to do with the murder and that Webber replied:

Beck'r Has Interesting Story.
"No, but what am I to do?" After that answer Mr. Marshall said he told Webber to get another lawyer and that he has had nothing to do with Becker since that day. Mr. Marston declined to discuss a report that Becker was prepared to reveal a story to the effect that six other men participated in whatever funds he is reported to have collected while a police officer. He made it plain however, that Becker was prepared to reveal an interesting story and that Becker's reason for doing so was not so much to save himself as to prevent others from falling into a situation similar to that which now faces him.

Webber Denies Story.
Passaic, N. J., July 2.—Bridgie Webber at his home here tonight denied that he had given H. T. Marshall, his former attorney, any information regarding Charles Becker.

"I told my whole story at the two trials," said Webber, "and I am through with the whole thing."

Montreal, P. Q., July 2.—At Dominion Park arena tonight one of the biggest boxing meets of the year will be held, Johnny Dore meeting Young Terry, and Billy Grame going against Curly Hume, the English lightweight.

War News Summarized

Heavy fighting in the Dardanelles, during which the French captured a Turkish redoubt of six lines of trenches, the recurrence of heavy artillery fire by the Germans at many points in France, the general retreat of the Russians along the Gnila Lipa and a naval action off the east coast of the Island of Gothland are among the more important developments of the war as recounted in various official statements and messages from war correspondents.

Dispatches from Stockholm and Copenhagen give meager reports of a naval engagement in the Baltic sea off the east coast of the island of Gothland. Several warships are said to have been engaged. A message from Copenhagen states that the German battleship Wittelsbach, which was damaged in the action, and a battleship of the Kaiser class, with many shots under her water line, have returned to Kiel. Another report of the action states that the German mine layer Albatross was chased by four Russian cruisers and ran aground to escape capture.

The Austro-German advance in Galicia and in Poland is unchecked. The Germans announce the capture of the Polish fortress at Zamosc and claim progress in other sections of the eastern front. The Austro-German forces have reached the Russian positions at Krastnik in southern Russian Poland, according to Berlin. In Galicia, after storming the heights southeast of Bukaszowice, north of Halicz, the Russians along the entire front from the district of Maryampol to just north of Firjlow, have been obliged to retreat and are being pursued by the Teutonic troops.

In the western theater the French admit the success of a German movement in the Vosges to gain a foothold in their works on Hilgenfirst, but claim that through a counter attack all the positions were recaptured.

A news dispatch says that a British submarine in the sea of Marmara on June 26 sank the Turkish transport No. 42, which was full of troops.

EXPLOSION DAMAGES CAPITOL BUILDING

PUBLIC RECEPTION ROOM ON EAST SIDE IS WRECKED

Officials Relieve Explosive Was Placed by a Crank Who Desired to Create a Sensation — Expert Makes Investigation.

Washington, July 2.—A tremendous explosion, believed to have been caused by some kind of a bomb or infernal machine, wrecked the public reception room on the east side of the capitol building shortly before midnight tonight. No one was injured.

Officials believe that the explosive was placed by a crank who desired to create a sensation. Visitors were allowed in the room during the day and a timed machine might have been left without attracting attention.

Superintendent Woods of the capitol building, summoned by panic-stricken watchmen, made a hurried investigation then telephoned for an expert on explosives. Until the expert makes report no official statement concerning the incident will be made public.

Part of the ceiling and side walls of the room were shaken down, a huge mirror and a crystal chandelier shattered and the doors blown open. One of the doors led into the office of the vice president and is said not to have been opened in forty years.

Some idea of the force of the blast was gained by the discovery of a chandelier crystal into the connecting link of which a splinter of wood had been driven.

CHALKS WARNING ON CABIN FLOOR.

New York, July 2.—"The Kaiser will get you yet," was the inscription Captain John Bradshaw of the steamer Lapland said he found written in chalk on the floor of his cabin before his ship left this port for Liverpool. The Lapland arrived here today. The writing was in German. The author of the sentence could not be located.

KILLS FOUR IN ONE FAMILY.

The dead are Mrs. Julia Breece, 70 years old, her son George and daughter Mrs. Rose Breece, 40 years old, and her son Fred, 20 years old.

MEAT IMPORTS INCREASE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The share of the United States in feeding the world, a task vastly increased by the European war, was disclosed today in statistics of the department of commerce. Foodstuffs valued at $24,000,000 were exported during the eleven months ending June 1. This was the principal factor in the nation's billion dollar foreign trade balance.

The effect of the war is seen in the enormous increase in the value of foodstuff exports, compared with the figures for the same eleven months a year ago, when the total was $443,000,000.

Wheat Forms Biggest Item.
Wheat formed the biggest item in foodstuffs sent abroad. In all 249,576,000 bushels were exported, an increase of 164,000,000 bushels. It was valued at $24,941,000, showing an increase over the previous year of $239,138,000. Oats valued at $51,669,000 were shipped, an increase of $51,023,000. There were $6,428,000 bushels, an increase of almost $5,000,000 bushels.

Flour showed the next largest increase, with a value of $87,650,000, or $37,638,000 more than the previous year. Almost 5,000,000 more barrels were sent this year, the total being 15,077,000.

Corn exports were valued at $34,542,000, an increase of $28,551,000. There were 43,718,000 bushels exported, an increase of more than 35,000,000.

Almost 3,000,000 pounds of bacon were shipped, an increase of 122,000,000 pounds. It was valued at $41,294,000, or an increase of $17,028,000.

Increase in Beef Shipments.
There was a big increase in beef shipments. Fresh beef exports were 131,487,000 pounds, an increase of almost 116,000,000 pounds; canned beef, 65,359,000 pounds, an increase of 61,000,000; pickled beef, 28,622,000 pounds, an increase of 7,000,000 pounds.

Value of beef exported was: Fresh beef, $15,363,000, an increase of $1,632,000; canned beef, $10,708,000, an increase of $1,284,000, and pickled beef $3,004,000, an increase of $583,000. Hams and shoulders exported weighed 162,233,000 pounds, valued at $23,435,000, an increase of $1,734,000.

Lard exports amounted to 441,702,000 pounds, valued at $48,917,000. The increase was small.

Exports of cotton seed oil, extensively used as a foodstuff, amounted to $19,903,000, an increase of $6,643,000.

Cotton exports were 8,103,097 bales, or 766,394 bales less than the previous year, but their value, $250,379,000, showed a decrease of $231,355,000.

A statement on the meat and dairy products trade issued today by the department of commerce said: "Imports of meat and dairy products into the United States in the ten months preceding May 1 last were three times the value of those for a like period two years ago and seven times those of the entire fiscal year 1905. This movement first assumed large proportions in the fiscal year 1914, following the transfer of meats to the free list. Very recent months, however, have reversed the upward trend since February, March and April show much smaller imports than compared with earlier months of the current fiscal year. The United States still exports far more meats than it imports, for although there have been record-breaking arrivals in the last two years, exports have been even larger. Returns for ten months indicate that the value of meat and dairy products exported this year will once more attain the $200,000,000 level that marked the decade prior to 1909."

GERMANY'S REPLY IS EXPECTED THURSDAY

PRESIDENT PLANS TO RETURN TO CAPITAL NEXT FRIDAY

Word Reaches Wilson That Washington Officials Are Not Deeply Disturbed Over the Steamer
Armenian Incident.

Cornish, N. H., July 2.—President Wilson today received official information from Washington that Germany's reply to the last American note on submarine warfare may be expected about July 8th, and in consequence he expects to return to Washington July 9th or 10th in order to consider the note with Secretary Lansing and other members of his cabinet. The president is hopeful that the German reply will be favorable, but he is maintaining strict silence on the subject and reserving judgment until he has had an opportunity of reading the note itself.

Ambassador Gerard has kept him fully informed of the state of official and public opinion on the question in Germany.

Not Deeply Disturbed.
Word came to the president from Washington today that officials there are not deeply disturbed over the Steamer Armenian incident and unless new facts develop in the official investigation now being conducted, the sinking of the vessel is now expected to complicate seriously the negotiations with Germany over submarine warfare. The president is holding himself free however, to take the question up with Germany if any American rights are found to have been infringed upon.

President Wilson spent most of today studying in quiet seclusion the general European question, including the possibilities of bringing about peace. He had before him the confidential reports of Col. E. M. House, Ambassador Gerard, Secretary Lansing and other officials.

FOURTH TRIAL OF DR. HYDE ON CHARGE OF MURDER IMPOSSIBLE

Swope Family Declines to Give Further Financial Assistance to the Prosecution.

Kansas City, Mo., July 2.—The probability of a fourth trial of Dr. B. Clark Hyde on the charge of murdering Colonel Thomas H. Swope was increased today by the announcement of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, sister of the late Kansas City philanthropist, that the Swope family would give no further financial assistance in the prosecution of Dr. Hyde.

Mrs. Swope now in Los Angeles, in a letter to Floyd Jacobs, the county prosecutor, in answer to an inquiry by the prosecutor as to whether the Swope would be willing to contribute $7,000 which he said was necessary to bring Dr. Hyde to trial, stated it was the duty of the state to provide funds. She said the family had done enough.

"We will continue to do all we can to go to trial in the fall," the prosecutor said today, "but it is impossible to see at present where the money is coming from."

RIGHT OF PUBLIC TO USE LAKE DEPENDS ON SUIT FILED BY STATE

Springfield, Ill., July 2.—The state of Illinois through Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey, today filed a suit at Lewistown, Fulton county, upon the outcome of which depends the right of the public to use Thompson's Lake, one of the richest hunting and fishing preserves in the state. Thompson's Lake is now in the possession of a hunting club of which Harry New of Indianapolis, former chairman of the Republican national committee, is a prominent member. The membership of the club includes several well known Illinoisans. The public has been denied the privileges of the lake and the outcome of the suit will be awaited with interest by sportsmen all over the state.

The suit is an injunction proceeding to enjoin private parties from obstructing the lake.

TRIBUTE TO TURK BRAVERY

LONDON, July 2.—The sudden recurrence of heavy artillery fire by the Germans at many points in France is a marked feature of the fighting on the western front, but in the meantime the Austro-German advance in Galicia and in Poland is unchecked and the Teutons have shown no disposition to diminish the intensity of their eastern offensive.

Capture Polish Fortress.
The Polish fortress of Zamosc has been captured and progress in other sectors of strategic importance on the east is claimed by Berlin. For weeks it has been the same story in this theater of war, an Austro-German rush, a Russian retreat—and the end is not in sight.

There has been during the week no official news whatever from the British front in Flanders but General Hamilton, commanding the allied land forces at the Dardanelles, in his second official despatch of the week records the repulse of a vicious frontal attack by the Turks who were bent on recovering the lost ground south of the fortified hill of Achi Baba and the strong position at Krithia which the British have for some time been attempting to envelop.

Allies Crush Counter Stroke.
The British forged a bit forward last Monday and the following day the Turks, after sapping and mining, launched a counter stroke with the bayonet. This was crushed while the French forces were on the right in Kereves Sere Vah toward the east coast of Gallipoli advanced and consolidated ground won the latter part of July. The distances are not stated.

Despite the hard fighting since the landing on April 25th, the Franco-British expedition only has achieved anything notable toward strengthening its hold on the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula. Achi Baba being a small Gibraltar with machine guns, rounded by barbed wire and raked with trenches. This is reason why any allied progress has been with great satisfaction.

It is interesting, the tributes to the Turks, and even gallantry, paid in every despatch from the correspondents at the Dardanelles. At no time during the fighting have the Turks been of atrocities.

"Billy" Sunday has many critics and still more friends and admirers and certainly is able to keep in the limelight, even during the "closed season" for sinners. Today is "Billy Sunday day" at the Panama-Pacific exposition and the famous evangelist is to make a brief address.

And still the enemies of John Barleycorn march onward. Seventy barrooms in Kansas City close their doors tonight, under the order of the new board of police commissioners, issued in March. A hundred saloons were affected by the order, thirty of which were closed down at once. Forty saloons owned by breweries have also been closed down.

So strict are the new rules regarding the booze dispensaries that on Main street, between Twelfth and Twentieth streets, only one saloon is allowed to do the block, and it must be in the middle of the block and have a cigar store in front. No display windows showing the brilliant bottles are allowed.

There is no lack of patriotism among the clergy of Canada and a company of "fighting parsons" has just been organized to go to the war zone. This was brought to pass through the efforts of Rev. B. W. Pullenger of Christ church, Saskatoon. The ministers will fight under the banner of the famous regiment of the "Princess Pato." The list of recruits is growing rapidly and it is the declaration of Rev. Mr. Pullenger that he and his brethren will be ready shortly to sail for Europe to take the places of fallen heroes of the famous regiment.

American labor should be protected by tariff duties that at least equal the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. Temporary shortage of world supply may maintain prices for a time, as in the case of wool, but placing on the free list commodities produced in competition with cheap labor abroad must ultimately bring hardship to American industry. The American farmer should be aided in borrowing money at rates of interest as low as paid by others who give security equally sound, but it is more important that he be aided in securing such a price for his products as will relieve him of the need of borrowing except in case of emergency.

Illinois Alms Houses.

On March first of this year, there were 7,783 people in the 101 alms-houses of Illinois of whom 6,166 were men and 1,617 women, or four times as many men as women. Of this number Cook county contributed 3,015 men and 696 women.

It is found that here are 135 boys and 118 girls, or 253 children under ten years of age; there are twenty-four veterans of the civil war; nineteen widows of veterans of the civil war; 137 of the inmates who at one time or another in their lives were legally declared insane. These people have either been discharged from a State hospital or have escaped from a State hospital and later on drifted into an almshouse, where the county authorities have made no effort to have them returned to a State hospital, as the law contemplates.

The superintendents report 159 of their inmates who are apparently insane or are irresponsible but have never been in court and adjudged insane.

One hundred and thirty are classified as epileptics. The county with the smallest population is Pope, with one woman and one man. Next comes Hamilton, Henderson and Johnson with three each.

Twenty counties have ten or less in their almshouses. Outside of Cook county, the largest population is found in LaSalle county, with 225 men and 65 women.

St. Clair county comes next with 213 men and 30 women.

Peoria county is third with 188 men and 27 women.

Sangamon next with 188 men and 27 women.

Kane follows with 121 men and 33 women, then Madison with 136 men and 7 women and McLean with 100 men and 14 women.

Will Await Results.

The announcement that the petitions are to be circulated among the citizens of Jacksonville with a view to securing a sufficient number of signatures, to cause the question of a return to the aldermanic form of government to be submitted to the people, will have a tendency to unsettle municipal affairs. None of the members of the present city council, who were last night asked for their opinion with reference to the proposed movement, had any comment to make.

But it will very naturally follow that the fact that petitions are to be circulated, whether or not the ultimate purpose is accomplished will throw city affairs into a state of uncertainty. It seems likely, therefore, that the present city council will not now announce any definite policy in a large way, since the doubt will exist as to how long they will be in office and as to whether the present form of government is to continue. If any important changes and improvements are to be made, the work will require an extended period for its accomplishment, and a group of officials would be unlikely to attempt anything of importance, with the doubt facing them of their ability to complete the work.

As has previously been mentioned the city has already anticipated the taxes payable in 1916 to the amount of $39,000, and has in addition a floating debt of approximately $45,000. The question of getting the city on a sound financial basis, is one of the problems facing the council, and this together with street paving, betterment of the municipal light plant, and enlargement of the water supply, can be accounted as among the larger matters which must occupy the attention of any city officials.

DIAZ THE GREAT.

Porfirio Diaz gave an index to his character and his sincere and deep patriotism for Mexico, in the closing words of his written resignation as President of the Republic, when he said, "I resign with the more reason since in order to continue in office it would be necessary to shed Mexican blood, endangering the credit of the country, dissipating its wealth, exhausting its resources and exposing its policies to international complications."

While Diaz during his term of office was frequently subjected to severe criticism, because he was said to rule Mexico with an iron hand, subsequent events have proved the necessity and advisability of his policies. The problems of Government in Mexico are not the same as those of the United States and will not be, until the people are raised by education to a different plane of citizenship.

With the advantages the average Mexican has thus far had he is not fitted to perform the duties of citizenship, which accrue to the citizens of a republic, measuring up to American ideals. History shows that Diaz thoroughly understood the strength and the weakness of his people, and that the iron rule that he enforced was based upon the highest motives and that during the period of his control the nation went steadily forward and the condition of the people improved, from year to year. When he became president, the country had for more than half a century been stirred by almost incessant domestic warfare. He maintained peace at home and established friendly relations with foreign powers. The results of the new policy were soon apparent. Diaz said that political peace and industrial prosperity were alike dependent upon railway communication. At the time of his first election Mexico had only about 360 miles of railway. When he resigned she had more than 10,000 miles.

A quarter of a century of good government effected an almost incredible change in Mexico. There were 700,000 scholars enrolled in the public schools and 125,000 more in private schools. Telegraph lines were run to all parts of the country, libraries, museums and newspapers sprang up throughout the republic, and cities well equipped with waterworks and sewer systems. Diaz did much to make Mexico an efficient nation but his work has not been continued.

MR. SHAW A VISITOR HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Shaw of Chicago are spending today and Sunday at the home of Judge and Mrs. Owen P. Thompson on West College avenue. Mr. Shaw is a member of the state public utilities commission. Prior to his appointment to his present position he was prominent as an engineer in Chicago and is a man of broad experience and ability in engineering work. His report on the commission has been such as to indicate his fitness for the very important work in which he is now engaged. His position requires not only technical knowledge, but a broad conception of public and private rights as well.

MUCH WHEAT TO CUT.

William Nunes has three binders and a force of 28 men at work harvesting his wheat of 248 acres, northeast of the city. The rain the past few days has hindered the work considerably.

A. B. McKinney residing west of the city has seventy five acres of wheat to cut. He says that the heavy rains and hail beat much of it down, which will make cutting difficult.

EARLY ACTION EXPECTED ON WEST STATE STREET PAVING

Petition Filed With City Council Shows Considerably More Than Half of the Frontage—Asphalt Is Asked as Paving Material.

At an early date the city board of local improvement will be organized under the new law. One of the first matters to receive attention will be the petition from property owners on West State street asking for an asphalt pavement from Church street west of the city limits. Secretary Weber of the Chamber of Commerce recently transmitted the petition to the city council showing signatures of property owners representing more than one-half the frontage. Mr. Weber called attention to the fact that it had not been possible to see all property owners but that quite a number other than those whose names appeared had expressed themselves as in favor of the improvement.

The property owners who signed the petition and the frontage owned are indicated below:

ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS FOR THE LATE W. R. ROUTT.

At a meeting of the Jacksonville Clearing House Association held Thursday the following resolutions in honor of William R. Routt were adopted. Mr. Routt had long been an officer of the Elliott State Bank and was closely identified with the banking interests of Jacksonville. The resolutions:

Jacksonville, Ill., July 1st, 1915. At a meeting of the Jacksonville Clearing House Association held upon the above date, the following resolutions submitted by the undersigned committee were adopted: "Whereas, Mr. William R. Routt, Vice President of the Elliott State Bank, has passed away, we deem it fitting and proper that this Association out of respect for his memory place on our record some expression of our esteem of him as an officer and director of the institution with which he was connected and as a citizen of this community.

Mr. Routt was identified with the business and agricultural interests of this county since his early manhood and his name was perhaps more widely known by the people of this community than that of any other person. Possessing a sociable nature, he was a man of even temper, generous impulses and the highest integrity and during his career, so far as we know, made no enemies. Everybody was his friend.

There are many instances where he has assisted those struggling with financial losses or reverses who, especially at this time will recall his acts of kindness toward them. Jacksonville and Morgan county has sustained a severe loss in his removal and his life is an inspiration to the many friends who mourn his death.

Resolved that we respectfully tender his bereaved widow the sympathy of the members of this Association, that the Secretary of the Board be directed to spread these resolutions upon the records and that a copy of them be sent to Mrs. Routt and to the City press for publication.

M. F. Dunlap,
F. E. Farrell,
Frank J. Heintz,
Committee.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC.

People are warned against throwing grass, trash, limbs of trees or other things into and upon the streets and alleys. Such disposal of refuse is in violation of city ordinance, tends to clog up sewers and otherwise does harm.

ORDINANCE ABOUT

EXPLOSIVES EXPLICIT

Police Department Has Called Attention to Provisions of the Law.

The propensity of boys to shoot firecrackers and other explosives about Fourth of July time has caused the police force some trouble the last few days. Chief of Police Davis is determined if possible to enforce the provisions of an ordinance that was adopted while H. H. Bancroft was mayor in 1910. This ordinance is specific and prohibits the sale and use of Dynamite Caps, Giant Firecrackers, blank cartridges and Toy Cannons within the limits of the city of Jacksonville. The ordinance is published in full and Chief Davis asks all to take warning as its provisions will be strictly enforced.

Section 1:
That no person shall sell or offer for sale within the City limits of the City of Jacksonville, any dynamite caps, giant crackers, blank cartridges, or toy cannons.

Section 2:
That no person shall in any part of the city, fire or discharge any blank cartridges, dynamite caps, giant crackers or toy cannons and any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined in a sum not less than three nor more than twenty five dollars for each and every offense.

Section 3:
Whereas an emergency exists for the passage of this ordinance the same shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and legal publication.

Passed at a regular meeting of the City Council this 12th day of May, A. D. 1915.

Approved, Horace H. Bancroft, Mayor.
Attest, George W. Davis, City Clerk.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE HELD AT CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOR.

Great Company Gathered to Pay Honor to Memory of Man Who Had Done So Much for the Church—Father Crowe's Eloquent Sermon.

The funeral of the late William R. Routh drew a large audience that nearly filled the Church of Our Savior Friday morning. The services were deeply solemn and impressive and the music was especially fine. Father Formaz at the organ with the regular choir of the church furnished the music which filled the great edifice with grand melody. Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated and everything pertaining to the ritual of the church was carried out in due form. The audience was composed of people most of whom had known and highly honored the deceased for many years.

In his discourse Very Rev. Dean J. W. Crowe paid a tribute to the church and to the character of Mr. Routh who had been such a faithful and liberal member.

In the solemn requiem high mass the parts were Rev. John Moroney, Pana, celebrant; Rev. Jeremiah Cronin, Virginia, deacon; Rev. Luke Mandeville, Rochester, sub-deacon; Rev. Andrew McDonald, Carlinville, master of ceremonies.

The impressive sermon of Father Crowe was heard attentively. He said in part, taking for his text I Thess 4:13.

We will not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that sleep that you be not sorrowful even as they who have no hope.

"For our own sake and the sake of the dead it is most desirable that we be not ignorant concerning their condition. First for our own sake, I say for our story is our. 'What has been,' says the book of Ecclesiastes that shall be, is the inspired answer. Death is not an accident which befalls one or other among luckless and ill-fated men. Death is not a chastisement reserved for great crimes. It is true that over the cell of the condemned we read, 'The wages of sin is death.' St. Paul in his epistle gives us the right interpretation of this. He says, 'By one man sin entered into the world, and by sin, death; and so death has passed over all men in whom all have sinned.' In the day thou shalt see thereof," said Almighty God to our first father, thou shalt die. A share in this sin and its consequences we all inherit.

"It is appointed unto all men once to die," says St. Paul. This is God's ordinance. We have no abiding city here; we are pilgrims seeking for the one to come. Each one of us is told by God's angel in the words of the Prophet Arise, Depart. There is no rest for us here. This is the universal decree. Man must enter into the house of his eternity and the house of that eternity cannot be approached except through the gates of death. The learned as well as the unlearned must die, saint as well as sinner on the same day and near each other. Jesus, God's holy One, died and Judas, the son of perdition. We, too, my dear friends shall die presently and for our sakes it is well for us to inform ourselves concerning the state of those who already are sleeping. In the third chapter of his first epistle to the Corinthians St. Paul tells us many things happen to the Christian dead. The words to which I allude are perhaps familiar to many of you. Other many can lay no foundation which is not laid which is Christ Jesus. Now one can build upon this foundation gold and silver and precious stones, wood, hay, stubble and God shall make manifest their works for on the day of the Lord they shall be declared by fire and the fire shall try and burn of what sort it is. These words teach us many useful lessons concerning the state of the departed. 'Other foundation,' he says, 'no man can lay but that which is laid which is Christ Jesus. In other words, faith in Jesus Christ is the foundation of all sanctity. In more cases than one faith in Christ Jesus is the foundation of holiness, but in the present I wish only to say faith in Jesus Christ is the foundation of all holiness. St. Paul says, 'Without faith it is impossible to please God.' Our blessed Savior when He sent His apostles to preach in His place and in His name, gave them this commission: 'Go preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved and he that believeth not will be condemned.' This is language strong and clear. Equally strong and clear and unmistakable are His words to the Pharisees: 'I go and you shall seek me, but you will die in your sins. Whither I go you cannot come,' and a few moments later He explains the severity of His sentence. 'You are from beneath,' He says, 'I am from above. You are of this world, I am not of this world. And so I say you shall die in your sins. If you do not believe that I am He, you shall die in your sins.' His condemnation is pronounced upon them because they had not faith. He had given them abundant proof of His divine mission but they would not believe. If from ignorance it was no fault of theirs, He would not have spoken so sternly. He explains this at this last supper, if I had not come and had not spoken they would have no sin, but now there is no excuse for their sin. If I had not done what no other man had done, they would have no sin, but because they have seen and have heard Me they hate both Me and My Father. Culpable disbelief, want of faith in Jesus Christ is an everlasting barrier between God and the soul. What do they mean, when men say, 'I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ?' Our blessed Savior, on one occasion, as we read in the ninth chapter of the gospel of St. John, said to a man whom he had cured of blindness, 'Do you believe in the Son of God?' He said: 'Lord show Him to me that I may believe.' Our Lord said: 'Thou hast seen Him and it is He that speaketh to thee.' The man said, 'Lord, I believe,' and falling down adored Him. We read in the eighth chapter of the Acts of the apostles that an officer of Queen Candace, riding in his chariot and hearing St. Philip preaching about our blessed Lord, said: 'Here is water, what doth hinder me from being baptized?' Philip replied: 'If you believe with all thy heart you mayest.' You remember, brethren, when our blessed Lord said to His disciples at Caesarea Philippi 'Whom do men say that I am?' Peter answering said: 'I believe that thou art Christ, the Son of the living God.' Our blessed Savior commended him most strongly for his profession of faith. 'Blessed are thou Simon, son of Jonas, flesh and blood hath not revealed this to thee, but My Father Who is in heaven.' Here we have three instances of men believing in the Lord Jesus Christ and it is well for us to know what do they mean by the phrase, 'I believe in the Lord Jesus.' Surely it is evident that they do not mean that He died for them, for in two instances out of the three He had not yet died. Something more is certainly meant. They mean that they believe in the Lord Jesus, the Son of God and God. That He is the Eternal Truth and I believe what He has taught, is teaching and shall teach. If a Jew should go home to his family and say, 'I have heard Jesus preaching and I like what He said I cannot say I would endorse what He said yesterday for I did not hear it, but He would say tomorrow for I do not know what it is,' this man would not have faith. He liked the doctrines that suited his taste and views. He did not have faith in Christ Jesus. If any man has faith and believes in Christ as God, the Eternal Truth, before our Lord would open His mouth he would be willing to say 'I accept all His teachings because He is the true God and the God of truth. If any one would say 'I believe what I read in certain pages of the gospel, but I do not believe the doctrines which I read on other pages nor can I bring myself to accept the teaching, that I must believe all the doctrines,' this man has not the necessary gift of divine faith and though otherwise a man of admirable parts, he cannot be saved. If we believe in the Lord that He is the Son of God, we must believe every doctrine of divine revelation because one word that proceedeth from the mouth of God is as good as another. The man with divine faith when he reads the words of St. James, 'Is any man sick among you let him bring in the priests of the church and let them pray over him, anointing him in the name of the Lord, and the prayer of faith shall save the sick man, and if he be in sins they shall be forgiven.' He answers, 'Credo, I believe.' When our blessed Lord says to His delegates, His ministers, 'Whose sins you shall forgive they are forgiven them,' he answers, 'Credo, I believe.' Our Lord says, 'He that will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican.' He answers, 'Credo, I believe.' When our Lord says to blessed Peter, 'Thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my church and I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and what thou shalt loose upon earth shall be loosed in heaven and what thou shalt bind upon earth shall be bound in heaven,' he answers, 'Credo, I believe.' And when our Savior says, 'There shall be one shepherd and one shepherd,' and to Peter, 'I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not,' and thou when once converted confirm thy brethren and 'feed my lambs, feed my sheep'—that is, feed the whole flock of Christ, both clergy and laity, the parent sheep and the lambs, he answers, 'I believe my Lord and my God. This is true faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. But if any one says, 'I believe those doctrines which suit my taste and my opinions,' he is making God only a fallible man, sometimes speaking the truth and other times speaking lies. In the days of the apostles and the early fathers of the church, they called this by a different name; they called it heresy, which means 'a piecing out,' and denounced it as the greatest of crimes. And surely any thinking, thoughtful man, with the help of God, can see that this is so. If faith in Christ Jesus is the foundation of holiness, then the want of faith is the destruction of the whole fabric built upon it and all the holiness of life. Dishonesty, lying, anger, lust, drunkenness, are not as bad as the sin of heresy, because if men are guilty of these things and retain their faith in Christ Jesus, the injury which has been done can be repaired. How terribly grievous the sin of heresy is may be seen from this, that our Lord Jesus Christ, in the last night of his life, expressed His Eternal Father the wish of His heart, 'that His disciples should be one,' and St. Paul repeats the wish our Divine Master when He says to us all in his letter to the Ephesians: 'Walk worthy of the vocation in which you are called; careful to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace; one body and one spirit, as you are called in the hope of one calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all.' Is not this plain language, brethren? Can there be a doubt but that our Divine Master wished his church to be one large sheepfold, one large family, with one heart, one visible body, one spirit, one gospel, one doctrine, one faith, one sacred deposit of truth and holy sacraments. Satan well knew our Lord's great wish for unity, and seeing that when he urged the Jews to crucify Jesus he had entirely gone wrong in his policy, since the crucified Lord is risen again, he now bends all his efforts to defeat the one wish of our Savior's heart by preventing unity among His disciples. His aim ever is to multiply creeds and sects till at last the confusion of Babel is come back again within this twentieth century, that is nearly nineteen hundred years after the work of our Lord was done on this earth, and He from the cross uttered these solemn dying words, 'Consummatus est'—my work is done, well done, thoroughly done—here still we have men groping about in the darkness and asking, with Pontius Pilate, 'What is truth?' as if our Lord had never taught it, and fighting with so much animosity about religious belief that it is time to say that neither thirst for gold, nor the passion of lust and ambition has caused so much discord, so much bloodshed, so much hatred as strife about religion has done. What a triumph for the father of lies! What is the conclusion? Why, that either St. Paul is wrong in telling us that faith in Christ is a necessary foundation and was wrong when he wrote to Timothy that our Lord 'wishes all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth,' or what is a still worse blasphemy, we must say that our blessed Lord did not know how to bring all men to the knowledge of the truth; or we must say, what is true, that men have been most lamentably duped by Satan and led into most appalling wickedness when they consented to give up divine faith, and instead of believing all Christ's gospel, made each one for himself a profane selection that accepted some words of God and rejected others, as if God were fallible and a liar, as man is. This much have I said that you may not be ignorant concerning the dead, because I believe, and it gives me great consolation to believe, that he whose body lies dead under this shroud was one of those who, though part of his life was spent in the very midst of modern skepticism and un-

"MORNING GLANCES"

(By Gosh)

Chicago beat Pittsburgh yesterday by a score of 2 to 1. The winning run was made in the ninth inning on Good's single, a sacrifice and Saier's Texas Leaguer.

Pierce is pitching some good ball for the Cubs these days. Yesterday he held the Pirates to three hits.

The Tigers trimmed the White Sox Friday by a score of 2 to 1. It was a great game with the Sox out-hitting the Tigers. Faber only allowed five hits to eight the Sox registered off of Dubuc but among the five hits of the Tigers was a home run drive by Sam Crawford. It was the third defeat for Faber this season.

Lena Blackburn is surely playing a great game for the Sox at third base. He is getting his hits, running the bases and fielding in great shape. It looks like Rowland is due to move him up in the batting order if he keeps up his present gait.

Ty Cobb got a hit off of Faber.
However, he did not run wild on the bases on Schalk as he has done on catchers for some time past. He did not get a stolen base.

Roth went hitless yesterday, the first time in several days that he did not get at least a safety.

Meadows the spectacular twirler for the Cardinals, held Cincinnati to one hit yesterday and shut them out. Toney pitching for the Reds only allowed six hits and two runs.

Brooklyn took its third game from the Giants yesterday. The game was a pitchers' battle between Coombs and Matthewson with Coombs having the better of the argument. New York got but four hits off of Coombs while Matthewson yielded six.

The Buffalo team in the Federal league seems to have awakened. For some time the team has been a joke despite the fact that there are some good men in the lineup. Yesterday they beat Baltimore by a score of 8 to 4. Eleven hits were secured off of Quinn and Bender. The game was featured by the hitting of Blair of Buffalo.

Falkenberg held Brooklyn safe all the way and Newark won from the Prookeds by a score of 7 to 2.

Connie Mack practically finished his destruction of his famous $100,- 000 infield Friday when he sold short stop Jack Barry to the Boston Americans. Barry, together with Baker, Eddie Collins and Harry Davis composed the famous Athletic infield a few years ago. All of the men were youngsters except Davis who was a veteran. Under his tutelage and that of Mack the others developed into stars. When Davis slowed up a few years ago
Mack sold off Stuffy McInnis on the first sack and he also developed into a star. The other day Mack disposed of Bob Shawkey, a pitcher, to the Boston Americans. With the going of Barry but little of the old machine is left except Oldring of the old timers. Mack probably has the fans throughout the country guessing as to what ultimate object he has.

The argument between the managers of the Springfield Independents and Carlinville Blues goes merrily on. While it is going on we would like to say a word. We do not believe that the Independents can beat the Carlinville team even with Jasper out of it for Doc Bennett is one of the best pitchers in this part of the country.

However, if the Independents are really waiting to play games where they can get the money they should play Jacksonville. While it is a good ways out to Nichols Park Jacksonville always did draw better crowds for either league or independent ball than Springfield ever did. The Eagles would like a game with the Independents. They may not be able to beat them but they can make them know they have been in a ball game. For a team composed strictly of all home players we believe the Eagles can beat any team in this part of the state.

However, they are willing to tackle any of them and are willing to go to Springfield to play but believe that the Springfield team can get more money by coming over here.
If the Independents believe they can beat the Eagles their supporters probably can win some money on the side. Let us hear from you.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend". In which thousands of women have found the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.

"Mother's Friend" is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant motherhood requires.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book so useful to expectant mothers.

Address: Bradfield Regulator Co., 512 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

W. R. ROUNTT'S FUNERAL

WAS HELD FRIDAY

ble. Some of these works are found at the judgment seat to be good and durable and worthy of everlasting reward; others are only hay and stubble that much burn in the fire and be lost. And when St. Paul speaks of men whose work burns he can not be speaking of the wicked who are cast into hell, but of God's elect, for in the very next lines he says that he whose work shall thus burn shall be saved "yet so as by fire." What have we here, brethren, but our own familiar doctrine of purgatory? Now what is this doctrine? It is that owing to your carelessness and want of fervor many men who are true disciples of Christ, that is who firmly believe in Christ Jesus, do not live up perfectly to their faith, do not always act as they ought, and from slothful neglect fail to make due reparation for grievous sins committed and besides this they entertain thoughts, speak words and do actions which though not grievously criminal, are not fit for heaven, and in this condition they die with an impure dress mixed up with their holiness which must be burned away before they can enter heaven. True, it is most true that at the moment of death our eternal doom is fixed. "If the tree fall to the north or the south in what place soever it shall fall there shall it be." It is equally true that when once a departed soul has seen its God at the judgment seat, it becomes so enamored of His Beauty, His goodness, His holiness that it cannot endure to enter heaven until it has gone away to hide itself in the place of purgation; till every sin and fault and negligence is repaired, till all mixture of unholy is burned out, till it can enter heaven free from spot and stain.

This ancient Catholic doctrine of purgatory was with many other proscribed by act of parliament in England three centuries ago. It was denounced as a modern corruption invented by covetous priests. Alas, that Satan has so much power to dupe us with his lies; to make void all the revelation of Christ with his lies; to destroy the unity for which Christ toiled and bled by his lies. By a lie ruined our first parents and by ceaseless lying he deceives and ruins us. If purgatory is a corruption invented in modern days by wicked priests, how came St. Paul to preach it implicitly? How came our Lord to reveal to us so plainly that there is in the next world one prison in which "weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth" shall be eternal in which the worn shall never die and another prison out of which the Christian shall come forth when he has paid last farthing. And if the doctrine of purgatory be a fond invention of greedy priests, how does it happen that on the sacred pages written a hundred and sixty years before the coming of Christ our Lord we read those familiar words, "It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead that they may be loosed from their sins." Thank God we have not lost this ancient belief on purgatory.

Thank God we are not ignorant on this point concerning them that sleep. How may we there who go from this world without some stain upon them? It is this doctrine of purgatory that emboldens us to stand by the grave with great peace and hope in our hearts saying, "Eternal rest give to him, O Lord and let perpetual light shine upon him." Another Christian truth which helps us greatly to have light thoughts concerning the faithful departed is the one which from childhood we so often repeat, "I believe in the forgiveness of sins." Even if sins be as red as scarlet I believe that in the church of Christ there is forgiveness for them and they are made white as now. Our Savior said solemnly to the men whom he appointed his delegates, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven." My brethren, Mr. Rountt, around whose coffin we are gathered was, thank God, one of those who firmly believed in this promise of Christ and in the power which He gave to his ministers. He was desirous to make humble confession for his sins at least monthly and to secure for his soul the priceless blessing of sacramental absolution. At the time of the great religious revolution in Europe three hundred years ago it was the fashion to say, "I will not bow my knee to man to ask for pardon, I will go direct to my merciful God." But who was the inspirer of this thought, brethren? Whose suggestion is it? If I hear my Lord and My God say "Unless you be baptized with water you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven" shall I lift up my head in my wisdom and say to him, "What can a drop of water do?" I must have grace direct from My God without the use of water. If I hear My Lord say "Go ye and preach; he that believeth shall be saved and he that believeth not shall be condemned," am I authorized to reply, "Lord you must teach me yourself with your own lips; I care not to deal with men your delegates or shall I say I must be admitted into heaven by some simple plan. One word more, brethren Christ has said 'Be merciful and you shall find mercy.' Of course we know and believe that if any man die with a grievous sin upon his soul he never can enter heaven, but if we study the teaching of our Blessed Lord, we shall see that it is equally true that no man who does his duty in almsgiving and works of mercy will be allowed to die in grievous sin. If you want to hear this doctrine summed up turn to the words of Tobias. Alms, deeds delivered from all sin and from death and will not suffer the soul to go into darkness. Are we to gather that a man may wallow in sin and still purchase mercy through almsgiving. No, brethren, God forbid. But we have this most clear and sure promise, that he who does mercy shall find mercy. What you did to my little ones I will take as done to Myself.

"Thank God Mr. Rountt who has been called to give an account of his set-aside was not one of those who to use the phrase of holy Job, 'eat their morsel alm'. I think he might say with that good man mercy and generosity, and kindness of heart grew up with me." To open his hand and share what he possessed with those around him was a duty to which he never needed to be urged. And this sacred altar and this church and the school which he built and endowed "remain to bear witness that through God's mercy he was given the light of divine faith he appreciated and valued for himself the holy sacraments instituted by our Lord and cherished for himself the ancient faith so he had a true zeal to secure for his poorer neighbors those graces and blessings which he coveted for himself. The Prophet Daniel says "that they that instruct many to justice shall shine as stars for all eternity. Next to the apostle that toils and teaches is it not he who by his liberal almsgiving very cordially provides for the poor all those spiritual helps and graces that come from the altar and from the preaching of Christ's gospel and the training of Christ's little ones. Rountt college, of which the dear departed is the saintly father, is his monument and will endure when we have passed away. It was established as the poor boys' college to bring the priceless blessing of a Christian education to all youths regardless of their race and creed.

"The doors of Rountt college will ever be open to every deserving boy, Catholic or non-Catholic, and while its teachings are those of Catholic morality, no one of different beliefs will ever be questioned or coerced in matters of religion. Mr. Rountt, my dear friends, was a rich man. Christ, our Lord, who knows all things and exaggerates nothing, speaks of the rich and their chances of salvation—'Woe to you, rich', and how hardly shall they who have riches enter into the kingdom of heaven.' We cannot ignore these words. We cannot explain them away. Of course we know that the grace of redemption is plentiful enough to enable both rich and poor to save their souls, but a rich man meets on the road to heaven with special and most serious difficulties which do not beset the path of the poor. 'All things obey money', says Ecclesiastes. A rich man is naturally surrounded by obsequiousness. His will is law. No one cares to become a martyr by contradicting him. 'We say to God, 'May thy will be done.' Often times the will and pleasure of a powerful man is executed more faithfully and more speedily than the will of God. A great man may never have the truth told to him until he hears that the judgment seat from our Savior Jesus Christ who does not stand in awe of riches. Rich men are easily blinded and live in delusion and thus their salvation is endangered. They find peace in their possessions. They are at rest and at home here upon earth and dread the thought of death. We should desire with the apostle to be dissolved and to be with Christ.' After a short pilgrimage here we are to go back true and loyal to our God who sent us hither. It is a state of utter disorder when a Christian man is unwilling to pass through the gates of death to go home to God.

"Mr. Rountt, though rich, was poor—poor in spirit. He tried to detach himself from the goods of this earth and was continually giving, as hundreds in this community and throughout the world could vouch for. When we consider that Christ Jesus spoke even to the Pharisees the words 'Give alms and to all things are made clean to you' and that in the days of old that proud king who beyond other men was perverted and corrupted by riches and the fascination of greatness was yet assured by the prophet that he could redeem even such sins as his by alms. The death of Mr. Rountt was a holy death. If you could see with what love and faith he kissed his crucifix, 'Blessed be the dead who die in the Lord for their works shall follow them.' Mrs. Rountt remains. Great is her sacrifice. The Creator exercising his rights without warning converts a happy home into a house of mourning. But Mrs. Rountt is a valiant woman—a woman of faith. She finds her consolation in the presence of our Blessed Mother at the Cross. Was not every pain inflicted on Him made doubly agonizing by the fact that she was looking on with bleeding heart. Did Jesus not permit His mother to become the Queen of Martyrs and Mother of Sorrow on Mount Calvary. Mrs. Rountt, the last of his holy family, has given a saintly son and loving husband to her God."

At the close of the services the remains were borne to Calvary cemetery followed by a large procession. The bearers, former students and graduates of Rountt college, were Scott Sweeney, John Cain, Murrell Cain, Gratian Joyce, Joseph Mollon, Leo Flood, John Groves, Carl Bergschneider, Leonard Rook, Charles Ryan, William Eades and John Meany.

CHAOTIC STATE OF AFFAIRS IN MEXICO TOLD BY SPEAKER

Rev. W. J. Burner Sees Only Devastation Ahead for Country Unless Centralized Government is Set Up.

An audience which should have been much larger heard with especial pleasure a highly interesting lecture last evening at the Central Christian church. The theme was "Mexico," and the speaker Rev. W. J. Burner of Peoria, a gentleman who has been for seven years a missionary in Buenos Aires, South America, and has traveled extensively and is fully able to discuss the subject. He told how easily things are done in Argentina. The ruler didn't want congress to meet, so he gathered a few soldiers, placed them about the capitol building and when the members of congress came next morning they found a small notice stating they were not wanted and went home, making no trouble, but laughing.

In Mexico there are 15,000,000 people, of whom perhaps 2,000,000 are white. Of these, 11,000,000 are unable to read and are wholly under the influence of the clergy. In an election in which all voted, the church would fill all the offices and the rest of the people wouldn't stand it. The three factions are led respectively by Villa, Zapata and Carranza, who is a figurehead, with Obregon for his general. All are cutthroats, murdering on the slightest pretext. Villa was a peon, or laborer, who, when he killed a man, tied to the woods, turned bandit and was a sort of Robin Hood. He is a great fighter and a man utterly reckless of human life. He refused to let women follow his army, though it was something new, for the ladies make the tortillas their husbands eat. He is a man with a good number of wives scattered about different parts of the land. One of his leading men is an absolute brute, killing people by the score for the fun of it.

Zapata held Mexico City yesterday, but don't know how he is now. He is said to have a harem of sixty ladies. He is not the equal of Villa as a fighter, though he is a fiendish murderer.

Carranza has better blood in him, but is only a figurehead, not strong and yielding to his generals. There are generals galore in Mexico.

It is very easy to start a revolution down there. A smart man gets a number of guns and some ammunition, arouses the men in a town and away they go. A Mexican hates work and likes the idea of being a soldier and looting some town.

The situation is simply appalling. Anarchy reigns, people are starving and the future is dark enough. Men worth tens and even hundreds of thousands have had to flee penitents. Foreigners have done much good down there in developing mines and manufactures and giving the Mexicans work.

What of the future? The Catholic church cannot rule the land. This is not in any way a criticism of the church. A military dictatorship might, if one of the three factions can win, but it would only be temporary. What they want is stability and safety.

The best solution, if possible, would be to send an army down there and take possession, not to annex, but to restore tranquility. Say 150,000 soldiers from this country would hold things down thoroughly, with little loss of life. Educate the people as fast as possible and show them the benefits of stability. There are very likely enough capable, upright Mexicans in exile who could be brought back to form a government, and the great thing needed there is a centralized, just and capable power. Give back the land that has been stolen from the people and treat them right. This would be the best plan, if practicable; if this is not followed, blank ruin, starvation and death seem to await the land.

LIBRARY BOARD MET.

The regular monthly meeting of the library board was held Friday afternoon. The business was largely of a routine character. Miss Barrett's report indicated that 119 cards had been issued during the month and that during the month of June 954 more books had been borrowed than in the same month last year. In all 3,882 books were issued and comment was made on the fact that at this season of the year that books of travel, poetry, essays and fiction are more popular than those on education, science and the fine arts. The work of the library is progressing satisfactorily, but since there are 19,497, progress is necessarily slow.

MORTUARY

Smith.
Mrs. Henry Smith, who has been ill for the past five weeks, died Friday at 5:30 o'clock at her home in Franklin. She was born Sept. 28, 1882, near Pisgah, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dyer. She married De Witt Scroggins, December 25, 1899. Two children were born to this union, a daughter dying in infancy, and one son, Russel, surviving.

She was married the second time to Henry Smith, Dec. 24, 1906 and they were the parents of two children, Ethel and Wendell. They with the father survive. She also leaves her father and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. John Samples, Mrs. Dio Duke, Mrs. Cortland Miller, of this county, Mrs. James Deardorff, Morrisonville; Wilson of Wayne county, Roy and Ernest of Franklin. One brother, Robbie, died in infancy and another brother, Alvin Dyer, survives.

The funeral will probably be held Sunday.

Rule.

Miss Juanita Elizabeth Rule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rule, of Springfield, died there at 10:20 o'clock Friday morning. The young lady was born in this city October 15th, 1895 and her home was here until about ten years ago when the family removed to Springfield.

Miss Rule graduated last year from the Springfield high school and her fatal illness was brought on by over study during her school days. A general break-down of health came and for three months her condition had been considered as very grave and the end was not unexpected. She was a faithful and devoted member of the Christian church and was a young lady of such character and graces that she held a warm place in the affections of a wide circle of friends. Her life held much of promise and so her untimely death has brought sadness to many hearts.

Miss Rule is survived by her parents and one brother, Lawrence, and in this time of sorrow they will have the sincere sympathy of their friends in this their old home as well as in Springfield.

The remains were brought from Springfield and taken to the Gillham undertaking establishment and thence to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, 606 South Diamond street, uncle and aunt of the deceased.

The funeral service will be held there at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in charge of Dr. R. O. Post and burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

JUDGE THOMSON DECIDED TAX OBJECTION CASES

Findings in Most Particulars is not in Favor of the Contentions of the Railroads.

In the County Court Friday afternoon Judge W. E. Thomson made known his findings in the railroad tax objection cases. All of the railroads entering Jacksonville filed objections to certain taxes and the hearing has occupied much of the time of the court this week. In the main Judge Thomson overruled the objections, but in several instances, the railroads are sustained. The attorneys for the railroads entered their exceptions, of the finding of the court in overruling their objections and may take an appeal. There is a possibility however that the finding in the lower court will be accepted without further litigation.

In district No. 11, which is in the northeast part of the county, the full amount of taxes objected to was sustained. This objection was based on a provision of the Tice road law which had not been complied with. It was shown that the commissioners did not hold two meetings, one in August and the other in September, to fix the levy. The objection made by the railroads, to the tax and school districts in 5 and 61 were overruled and all objections to the county tax were overruled. Practically all objections to road district taxes were overruled, but in district No. 2 the objection of the C. P. & St. L. was sustained as to $60.54. In district No. 9, the C. and A. was relieved of a tax of $47.60 and the C. B. & Q., of a tax of $35.78; In district No. 13, the C. and A. was relieved of $8.71, the C. B. & Q. of $40.62 and the C. P. & St. L., of $22.55, their respective parts of a special levy of $1100.

COLORED WOMAN IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

RIFLE BALL ENTERED ABDOMEN CAUSING WOUND PROBABLY FATAL.

Albert Sanders Discharged Weapon While Examining It and Clara Timberlake Received Fatal Injuries—Man is Exonerated of any Wrong Intention.

As a result of the accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of Albert Sanders, of 466 South Clay avenue, Clara Timberlake is at Our Savior's hospital in a dying condition. The shooting occurred at the residence of Carl Mack on East Washington street about 6 o'clock Friday evening. As soon as shooting occurred Dr. J. W. Hairgrove was called and had the injured woman taken to Our Savior's hospital where, with the assistance of Dr. Edward Bowe the wound was examined. The bullet entered the abdomen on the left side and took a downward course. The examination revealed that several intestines had been perforated and that the woman's condition was critical. Both parties are colored.

Shot Fired Accidentally.
Immediately after the shooting the police were notified and Chief Davis went to the residence of Mack and took Sander to the police station. Upon inquiry he found that the shooting was purely accidental and Sanders was released. The Chief, however, told him that in case of the death of woman that he should hold himself in readiness to appear as a witness.

When seen at the police station by a Journal reporter Sander told his story of how the accident occurred. He felt very badly about the matter.
According to Sander's story he is employed on one of the Negus farms near Sinclair. He was coming to town Friday and his wife had asked him to bring home with him a 22 calibre repeating rifle which he had at the farm. Sander said he took the rifle apart and put the stock in his suit case and carried the barrel in his hand. He missed the train and walked in. As he was walking along the Wabash track and reached Washington street Carl Mack who lives on Washington called to him to come over.

Story of the Shooting.
Sanders said he went over and began to talk with Mack and his wife, the latter being his sister-in-law. Mrs. Mack and Clara Timberlake were sitting in a swing on the porch. Sanders and Mack sat on the railing of the porch. Mack said that Sander had promised to show him the rifle and asked to see how it worked. Sander got the stock out of the suit case and started to put the gun together. He says there was one cartridge in the magazine. Mack asked how he got it out. Sander said he put the gun together and worked the pump throwing out the cartridge that had been seen in the magazine. He worked the pump again and must have pulled the trigger for the gun was discharged and the bullet struck Mrs. Timberlake. Evidently there were two cartridges in the magazine and Sander did not know it.
Sander is a man of good repute and has always been a hard worker. He has been engaged in farm work for several years. He came to Jacksonville from Louisiana, Mo., and has been a resident here for about sixteen years. The injured woman has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Mack for some time.

A REMARKABLE CHERRY TREE.
L. Conner, living on South Main street, opposite the electric light plant, has in his back yard a remarkable cherry tree. It is not more than three feet high, crooked stalk, bushy branches, and for two years has borne a large crop of fruit. This summer it had several quarts of fine cherries on it and a branch may be seen in the window of the Journal office. Mr. Conner says his next door neighbor, S. L. Perry, had on his place a cherry tree bearing fruit similar to that on the little tree, but some years ago it died and was removed. The little tree is but a few feet from the spot on which the large one grew and may be a sprout or from a seed.
